

zondag 22 juni 2025

Something with staggered diff in diff*

Very funny something

Shiva Faeghinezhad
University of Twente
s.faeghinezhad@utwente.nl

Marc Heinle
University of Twente
marc.heinle@utwente.nl

Misja Mikkers †
University of Twente
m.c.mikkers@utwente.nl

ABSTRACT Abstract and more abstract text here. This is a placeholder for the abstract of the paper. It should summarize the main findings and contributions of the research in a concise manner, typically in 150-250 words.

KEYWORDS Bayesian; Calloway Sant'Anna; Staggered DiD; And more; healthcare systems

---

*We would like to thank XXX for his valuable suggestions and feedback on this project.

†Corresponding author.

1 Introduction

Callaway en Sant'Anna (2021) have proposed a new approach to estimate the treatment effect in staggered difference-in-differences (DiD) settings. We will try to replicate their results using a Bayesian estimation approach.
(Baker e.a. 2025)

2 Data

References

- Baker, Andrew, Brantly Callaway, Scott Cunningham, Andrew Goodman-Bacon, en Pedro HC Sant'Anna. 2025. 'Difference-in-differences designs: A practitioner's guide'. arXiv preprint arXiv:2503.13323.
- Callaway, Brantly, en Pedro HC Sant'Anna. 2021. 'Difference-in-differences with multiple time periods'. Journal of econometrics 225 (2): 200–230.